FUND COMMENTARY

The CIO Islamic Income Fund delivered a positive performance during the month, driven primarily by strong equity markets. On the credit side, the portfolio maintained a weighted average yield to maturity of 6.0%, a weighted average coupon of 5.88%, and a modified duration of 6.06 years, with an average credit rating of BBB-. Equity holdings continued to emphasize large-cap, high-quality companies, with a weighted average market capitalization of $1.37 trillion, a dividend yield of 1.12%, and a price-to-earnings multiple of 23.5x. The fund recorded a total return of +1.05% for the month. As of month-end, the portfolio was well balanced, with fixed income accounting for 61% of assets, equities 35.5%, and cash 3.5%, reflecting the fund's objective of income generation while participating in equity upside.

Fixed income performance contributed approximately +0.20% for the month, reflecting resilience in corporate sukuk and select regional financials amid moderate interest rate volatility. Top contributors included Arabian Centres (+0.12%), Ittihad (+0.10%), Saudi National Bank perp (+0.02%), and Warba perp (+0.02%). Long-duration sovereign bonds and select utilities faced some modest pressures, notably Seco'53 (-0.06%), Indois'54 (-0.05%), and Aldar'35 (-0.03%), primarily due to market repricing of long-dated rates. Sector-wise, Financials contributed +0.29%, while Government (-0.04%) and Utilities (-0.06%) were slight drags primarily due to rising yields. Geographically, UAE (+0.10%), Saudi Arabia (+0.10%), and Kuwait (+0.04%) led performance, whereas Indonesia (-0.03%) and Qatar/Malaysia (-0.01% each) were minor detractors. Overall, the fixed income allocation provided steady income while helping to stabilize portfolio returns.

Equities performance was the primary driver, contributing approximately +0.98%. Strong global equity markets supported gains, particularly in technology, communications, and industrials. Communications (+0.31%) and Industrials (+0.28%) were the strongest sectors, followed by Consumer Non-Cyclicals (+0.22%), Basic Materials (+0.12%), and Energy (+0.13%). Technology added +0.04%, while Consumer Cyclical (-0.06%) was a minor detractor. At the stock level, the largest contributors included Samsung Electronics (+0.16%), Alphabet (+0.16%), Micron Technology (+0.12%), and Taiwan Semiconductor (+0.10%), with additional positive contributions from Nvidia, Lam Research, Meta Platforms, and ASML Holding. Microsoft (-0.24%), Apple (-0.09%), and Adobe (-0.08%) were the largest detractors. Regionally, the US (+0.22%), Korea (+0.16%), and Taiwan (+0.12%) were the strongest contributors, while other geographies had minor positive or neutral contributions. The equity allocation benefited from a combination of strong earnings momentum, sector rotation, and exposure to high-quality large-cap companies.

Overall, the fund's performance was supported by strong equity contributions, complemented by positive contributions from fixed income. The balanced allocation across equities, corporate sukuk, and government exposures, combined with geographic and sector diversification, enabled the fund to capture upside while maintaining a disciplined, risk-managed approach. This strategy continues to reinforce the fund's objectives of delivering income generation alongside potential capital appreciation.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

The risk and reward indicator illustrates where the Fund is positioned in terms of its possible risks relative to its potential rewards. The higher the Fund's position on this scale, the greater the possible reward, but also the greater risk of losing money. This risk indicator is calculated using historical data, which cannot be used as a prediction for the future. Therefore, the risk classification may change over time. Even if the Fund is in the lowest risk class you can lose money, as no investments are entirely risk free.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS

The Fund invests mainly in Shari'a compliant securities and funds globally across a variety of asset classes that may include equities, Sukuk, liquid alternatives (through Shari'a compliant exchange traded funds) and cash. Equity securities fluctuate in value based on changes in a company's/fund's financial condition, general market and economic environments and market conditions, resulting in an increased potential for volatility. The Sukuk market due to its size may create low levels of liquidity. The Fund's investment positions may furthermore be leveraged by entering into Shari'a compliant financing arrangements. The Fund will therefore be subject to credit and liquidity risks. At this time, the level of the risk and reward profile is equal to 3 as the performance can be subject to relatively moderate fluctuations. For full details of the risks the Fund may be exposed to, please refer to the Fund's Prospectus.
